Preface

TO THE FOUNDERS of States mankind has always offered extraordinary honors; therefore, in writing this little Volume to put before the descendants of one of the pioneer families, rather than before the public generally, I feel there must be some who will be interested in the data contained therein.

To those who have rendered me so much assistance I would express my most sincere thanks and hope in its pages they may find something pleasing about their Ancestry.

Loughry History

The early emigrants of this name came to America when Pennsylvania was a wilderness. The father came from Derry County, Ireland, with five sons and settled in the extreme confines of Cumberland County, Pa., in Lack Twp., afterwards Lurgan Township, before 1740, taking up land under Maryland Grant. His Descendants identified themselves with the Colonists, brave Patriots who "pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor to their County," and did not hesitate to give all when needed.

The name is spelled in various ways, as was the case with most of the names of the early pioneers, but it is generally conceded, Lochry is the correct spelling. This would indicate the name is of Scotch or Scotch-Irish origin. What is the meaning of Scotch-Irish? It is only an appellation given by Americans to the descendants of the Scots who settled in the north of Ireland and were chiefly of Saxon blood and their religion was Presbyterian, whereas those who were natives of Ireland were of Celtic blood, and as we all know their religion was Roman Catholic and the races are said to be as distinct today as when the Scots first crossed the border and took up their abode in that beautiful Irish land.

The name "Lochry" signifies Mountain Lake. Loch from the Scotch, meaning lake, and "ery" meaning mountain. The Wilsons, Loughrys and two other families came with Lord Forbes into Ireland from Scotland during the reign of James the First of England and settled in Loughford County, Ireland. There is a lake there called "Lough Rea" and another called "Lough Ree," also a town in Galloway County named "Lough Rea," all of which would indicate the Loughry family settled there.

The various spellings of the name in Pennsylvania may be of interest to some of my readers: Lochry, Lochra, Lochery, Loughry, Loughery, Loughrey and many others, but these are the principal methods.

Hanna in his Scotch-Irish says, "Lochry, Laurie and Lowry" are all the same name.

From Egle's History of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania we glean the following:

The Manor of Maske, Adam's County, Pennsylvania, 1736-1740, p. 282:

The Manor is separated by a narrow strip on the west from "Carroll's Delight," as it was originally called, and which was surveyed under Maryland authority on the third of April, 1732. It was patented August 8th, 1735, to Charles, Mary and Eleanor Carroll, whose agent made sales of warrants for many years, supposing that the land lay within the grant of Lord Baltimore and in the County of Frederick. As originally surveyed, "Carroll's Delight" contained 5,000 acres.

Under date of March 10th, 1789, a petition was presented to the President and Supreme Council of the State of Pennsylvania by Isaac Robinson, William Waugh, James Brice, William Willie, David Blyth and Ebenezer Finley, asking a re-survey of "Carroll's Delight." This set forth that in 1741 Archibald Beard, John Witherspoon, James McGenley, William Cochran and Jeremiah Lockery purchased of Charles Carroll 5,000 acres which were taken up and surveyed years before this purchase, but were subsequently found in Hamilton Ban Township in Pennsylvania, 1789. The petition asked for a settlement of the question. In 1762 caveats were entered in the office against granting warrants for these lands, whether in Hamilton Ban or Franklin Township. The 25 divisions adjoining "Carroll's Delight" were occupied in 1789. Surveyed first in 1732 and lies at the head of Monocacy River on Tom's Creek and is now in Pennsylvania.

From Maryland Historical Magazine, p. 172, Vol. 15:

Charles Carroll was a man of much note in Maryland and was the signer of the Declaration of Independence from Maryland. He was a large land speculator. He founded the City of Carrollton, Maryland. Fort Carroll, Maryland, was named for him.

Charles Carroll, Sr., was elected one of the Governor's Council, the First Assembly of Maryland, 5th of February, 1777. P. 160, Vol. 6, Md. Hist. Mag.

Christopher Carroll, 1633, was brought over to Maryland by Ferdinando Pulton, Esq. P. 268. Vol. 5.

Clements Brooke married Jane Sewell and their daughter Elizabeth married Charles Carroll, born in 1702, died in 1781. He was of Annapolis, Md.

Their only son Charles Carroll of Carrollton was born 1737, died 1832. Signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Clement Brooke and wife Mary. Their eldest daughter, Rachel Brooke, married Henry Darnall of Prince Georges Co., and their daughter Mary married Charles Carroll of Carrollton the 5th of June, 1768.

He was a Delegate to Congress 18th of April, 1777. Ignatius Diggs was a brother-in-law of Charles Carroll of Maryland. John Diggs and Charles Carroll of Carrollton were cousins.

Diggs—Sir Dudley Diggs had son Edward Diggs.
William Diggs, son of Edward Diggs.
Ignatius Diggs, son of William.
John Diggs, son of Ignatius Diggs.
Prowell's History of York Co.

As before mentioned, the Lochry family settled in the extreme confines of Cumberland County, some mention Lack Township and some say Lurgan Township. Lurgan Township was carved out of Antrim Township in 1743. Antrim Township, embracing the whole of what is now Franklin County, was detached from Hopewell Township.

The Eastern Township of Cumberland County was Pennsborough and the westermost Township was Hopewell in 1735. In 1741 the west division of Hopewell was called Antrim. In 1743 Lurgan Township was what is now called Franklin County.

Genealogy of the Loughry Family

FIRST GENERATION

1 Jeremiah Lockery, the father of the family in America, was born in Ireland and came to America before 1740. Tradition says he came to America with his five sons; no mention is made of his wife or daughters, his wife's name is thought to be Mary. Children of Jeremiah Lockery:

2 Jeremiah Loughry—born in 1731.
3 William.
4 Archibald—born in 1733.
5 Margaret.
6 John—born in 1737 in York Co., Penna.
7 James.
8 Rebecca.
9 Mary.

The children of the family were brought up as youthful pioneers enduring all the hardships of a wild country, thus fitting them for the work in store for them in the future, when their country should have need of their strength and reliability.

He took part in the early wars of the country, for his name is on the list of officers of the Pennsylvania Regiment commanded by the Honorable John Penn, Esq.

Beer's History states that JEREMIAH LOCKERY was buried in the cemetery located near the junction of Big and Little Marsh Creeks in Highland Township, in what was known as Lower Marsh Creek or Sanders' burying ground. He was buried in 1749.

SECOND GENERATION

2 Jeremiah Loughry (son of [1]Jeremiah), born in the year 1731.

10 A daughter, Barbara.

His Military Services:

1757—Jeremiah Loughry was on the list of Colonel Hance Hamilton's Provincial Troops.

1758—He was at Fort Littleton, June 1st, on the paid list of Colonel Hance Hamilton's men.

1762, May 25—George Croghan, Esq., sold to Jeremiah Loughry of Cumberland County "Forks of Trusses Run," including the deep spring below the Forks, 150 acres. Witnessed by John Little. —From Carlisle, Pa., records.

July 7, 1762—Jeremiah Loughry, a warrant issued for land in Cumberland County. Patented to Solomon Reighard. He applied for 100 acres and received 7.

1763—The men of Colonel Hance Hamilton's company petitioned for a grant of 1000 acres and received it west of the mountains.

1763—He was Commissary General of the stores to the regiment, June, 1763.
—From Penn. Archives, Vol. 2, Second Series, pp. 525, 524.

Captain John Proctor.
Lieut. Jeremiah Loughry.
Ensign Joseph Irwin.

First Battalion; list of officers of the Penn. Regiment commanded by the Honorable John Penn in 1764.

1765—He sold the land at Forks of Trusses Run.

Jeremiah Loughry to Patrick Hartford.
Forks of Trusses Run sold March 21, 1765.
Carlisle Records, Vol. 2, Deed Book A, p. 286.

He married about 1760 and moved to Bedford, Pa.

1768—He went west of the mountains, and in 1769 he took up land when the Land Office was opened. See early land records of Lancaster and Westmoreland Counties (Harrisburg).

In 1770 he lived on land situated on both sides of the Great Road to Fort Pitt, about ten miles above Ligonier, adjoining lands of William Perry, the widow Baltimore, and Philip Grouse, in Cumberland County, Penn.

He did not seem to keep land very well, for in Greensburgh records of deeds we find in Deed Book A, Part 1, p. 43, that the Sheriff sold his land.

Deed Book A, p. 43:

David Hoge, Esq., to Samuel Johnson, Esq.. of the Town of York.

Sheriff's Judgment against Jeremiah Loughry and Patrick Hartford.

No. 1. Adsectum Index to Deeds, Recorder's Office.

He witnessed deeds in Bedford County that were signed by Indians in 1772.

1773—He owned land in Westmoreland Co., Pa., known as "Mill Seat," in 1785.

1778—He was commissioned Captain of "Jere Lockry's Rangers."

1777—He was commissioned Captain of the 6th Pennsylvania Regiment and on August 26, 1778, the Washington Pension Office has "Deserted from his arrest" and immediately raised a company of Rangers to guard the frontier.

In 1774 he was one in Hempfield Township, Westmoreland County, to sign the petition to government for ammunition and protection from the Indians.

In 1808 he applied for a pension which was granted by the State of Pennsylvania, according to the Act of March 4th, 1807.

From Penn. in the Revolution, 1775 to 1783 p. 767, Vol. 2.

When he applied for pension he gave an account of his services which was printed in the Pennsylvania Argus on Wednesday, January 25, 1911, and as some may like to read it, we reprint it verbatim.

A Declaration of the Services Done by Me, Jeremiah Lochry, in Defense of My Country:

I went out first with General Braddock. Traveled the distance of 150 miles through danger before I came up with the army. The Indians having drove the people into garrisons on the Potomac and the Canalaway Settlement. On my return I seen some lying killed and scalpt. That Fall they destroyed the Great Cove. I helped to bury the dead. Was almost constantly upon guards from York County to Cumberland. Fort Littleton was raised and two regiments of men were raised in Pennsylvania and stationed along the frontier. The second summer Col. John Armstrong wrote my brother to get volunteers and meet him at Fort Shirley, that he was going on a private expedition. He got eight. I went along. We took the Kitanian. We were on the advance guards. The year following I engaged in the service under Capt. Hamilton for one year. After that I got to be commissary of the garrisons. Next year General Forbes carried a campaign against Fort Pitt. I got orders to march in front until we got to Ligonier. There Major Grant went against Fort Pitt with eight hundred and forty-seven men, but there was but two hundred and fourteen of us got back, the rest killed and taken. That fall I quit the army, then peace was made with the Indians. Bedford got settled. I married and went to Bedford, some years after. Lived there two or three years and kept a public house. All the King's stores there and no men to keep it, but Quartermaster Curry, a corporal, and eight men, they found the Indians was first to take that, then they had all. Curry got word sent for three or four of us, concluded to call in the country people to keep the garrison. Captain Curry sent for me and asked me if I knew where any of the Indian camps was that hunted all winter. I told him I knew where one was on the Warrior path on the Allegheny Mountains. He told me to get a party of men and fetch them in. I could get but four. We set off and took them prisoners, two men, two squaws and three children, and kept them under guard till peace. There was a number of young men hunters which had no families. I got fifteen or twenty to sign an article to stay till we got relief. One dark, rainy evening there was two girls went over the river for the cows. Six or seven Indians jumped out of the thicket and caught hold of one of them. The other got into the river. We were on parade and saw them. I fired and killed the Indian that had hold of the girl. The ball that killed the Indian took a piece off the girl's ear. I had to send part of my scouts to keep Ligonier Garrison. Then Col. Boquet came to go to Pitt with provisions and took the men with him as an advance guard. One of them was killed and two wounded. After that there was no more provisions to be given out of the King's stores nor none to be got. The young men that I had got would stay no longer. I concluded to take my wife away. Col. Crohan was besieged there. He sent for me and asked me how them women and children could get down, without provisions. I told him we must kill meat for them.

He told me if we would wait two days and guard him down he would draw provisions to take down, which was good news, and we got safe down.

Col. Armstrong was going on a campaign against the Indian towns on the Susquehanna. I got eight men that had never been in the service to go. They chose me for their Captain. We destroyed three Indian towns. One at Mansey Hill, the Big Island, and one called Young Women's Town. Got some cows tied in ropes which they left and thirty-two canoes full of corn.

Then I got a commission, raised a company rendezvoused in Lancaster under Boquet. Commander. When Col. Boquet ordered me to draft the regiment for a rifle company and kept us shooting three days in order to pick the best marksmen. I drafted the first battalion. Captain Brady the second. We then marched to Pittsburgh, thence to White Women's Creek. The Indians treated with us and we got one hundred and forty white persons that they had. When I came back to Bedford, I got a poor account of what I left—all gone. Then there was a purchase made west of the mountains. I came there to live in the year 1768; lived some years there in expectation of war. Major Lewis from Virginia had a battalion at the Canaway and there was raised in Pennsylvania four companies, in Westmoreland, namely: Capt. Joseph Irwin, Capt. James Smith, Capt. Archibald Lochry, and myself. Arthur St.

Clair, our Colonel, marched us to the Kittanian, kept us there three months and discharged us. No war. JEREMIAH LOCHRY.

1786—Jeremiah Lochery had land in Derry Twp., Westmoreland County, Pa.

In 1790 he was on the pay roll of Captain Fletcher. Of his family I have found but little record. I have read that his wife was killed at the burning of Miller's Station and Hannas Town.

He died January 21, 1824, at the age of 93 years, at the home of Samuel Moorhead, Salem Township, Westmoreland County.

The historian "Day" says of him: "An old frontier man who had been in Armstrong's Expedition, lingered around Kittaning for many years wandering from house to house, staying all night with people and repaying their hospitality with anecdotes of his adventures."

P. 97, Day's Hist. of Penn.

His remains repose in the old graveyard at Congruity Church.

From the foregoing account we see that Jeremiah Lochry early engaged in service during the war, and afterward in defense of the frontier of western parts of the state against the Indians, where he was wounded in the shoulder, which disabled him. He was granted a pension.

He married MARY IRWIN (daughter of Capt. Joseph Irwin), and she after his death married Guthrie (Widows Appraisement Docket, Greensburg, Penn.).

He died August 24, 1781, meeting his fate while with the Clark Expedition. Archibald Lochry, Lieut. Colonel Pennsylvania Militia, killed by the Indians on the Miami River, Ohio, 24th August, 1781 (Continental Army Officers' Register).

A creek and an island in the Miami are named for him near Cincinnati spelled Laughry (Hist. of Dearborn Co., Indiana).

His will was dated November 26, 1778, and was witnessed by Jeremiah Loughry and Kinkead and one other.

Children of Archibald Lochry and Mary Irwin Lochry, his wife, were:

11 Jean—born 15th of April, 1776.

12 Elizabeth—born August 3, 1780.

Mary Lochry, widow of Archibald Lochry, afterwards Mary Guthrie.

In 1783 she, that is, Mary Lochry, was in possession of land in Westmoreland County as shown by tax list.

Elizabeth, daughter of Archibald Lochry, and the mother, petition for a pension because of the father's services in the Clark Expedition, May 4, 1791.

1781—Archibald Lochry, Colonel in General Clark's Command, massacred by the Indians while with the Clark Command.

5 Margaret Loughry (daughter of [1]Jeremiah Loughry the Emigrant) married James Hamilton.

Their children were:

13 Elizabeth.
14 Hans
15 Mary.
16 Margaret.
17 Catherine.
18 Ann.
19 James.
20 William.
21 John.

6 John (son of [1]Jeremiah Loughry), was born in Pennsylvania, York County, in 1737.

7 James Loughry (son of [1]Jeremiah Loughry), took up 200 acres of land, warrant date of survey, November 9, 1750.

In 1757 he was with Provincial Troops under Colonel Hance Hamilton, and in 1758, June 1st, we find him at Fort Littleton on the paid list of Colonel Hance Hamilton's men.

Vol. 2, Second Series, Penn. Arch.

He was Major in 1798.

From Penn. Arch., Vol. 1, Fifth Series, pp. 179-280.

In 1776, August 9th, he was in Captain J. Parr's Company, having enlisted for three years. He was Lieutenant in 1754.

He was living in Indiana Co. in 1798, and was an elder in Kent Presbyterian Church prior to 1834. Caldwell, in his History of Indiana Co., states that Bethel Presbyterian Church is seven miles southwest from Indiana and was organized in 1790. Rev. Joseph Washington Henderson was the first pastor, 1798 to 1823. He was originally of York Co., Pa. Major James Loughry was one of the first elders. At a meeting, when the pastor asked for persons to sign the temperance pledge, five persons came forward and signed. Major Loughry was the first name on the list. This was Kent or Bethel Church.

He had two sons. Was Mary Loughry, who was a member of Kent Church at the same time, his mother, wife, or sister?

22 James Loughry married Sarah Henderson.

Sarah Henderson was born on the old Henderson homestead in Centre Twp., Indiana, Co., Pa.

Born 1807, she was the daughter of Rev. Joseph Washington Henderson and Elizabeth Scott, daughter of Judge William Scott of Adams Co., Pa.

Rev. J. W. Henderson's first wife was Sarah Dixon, daughter of Col. James Dixon, of Adams Co.

Rev. J. W. Henderson was the son of James and Maria (Breckenridge) Henderson: Maria Breckenridge Henderson was a sister of the father of Hon. John C. Breckenridge.

Bethel Presbyterian Church is seven miles southwest of Indiana, Pa.; was organized in 1790 with the Rev. Joseph Washington as the first pastor, from 1798 to 1823. He was originally of York Co., Pa.

Was this James the son of Major James Loughry?

8 Rebecca Loughry ([1]Jeremiah), no record.

9 Mary Loughry (daughter of [1]Jeremiah Loughry).

1787—Mary Loughry, of Bedford Co., Pa., single.

THIRD GENERATION

3 William ([1]Jeremiah Loughry), married Rebecca. He died and left her with a family.

23 Mrs. Rebecca Loughrey.

Their children were:

24 James—born in 1753.
25 William—born 1756.
26 Rebecca Loughry.

25 William ([3]William Loughry, [1]Jeremiah Loughry), was born May 22, 1756. He rose to much prominence in Westmoreland Co. He was appointed a Justice of the Peace in Bedford County when the county was organized in 1771 (Bedford County Records).

March 11, 1771, Justices of Bedford County, Pa.:

25 William Lochry and Arthur St. Clair.

Coroner, Joseph Irwin.
Sheriff, John Proctor, Jr.

Appointed October 8, 1771 (Bedford Co. History, p. 71).

He was in that part of Bedford County which was afterwards Westmoreland County. He settled in Ligonier Valley, locating on the Loyalhanna, was a physician and, I am told, spelled his name Lowery. In 1783 he was in possession of 200 acres of land in Westmoreland County, also horses, cattle and sheep. In 1773 he signed the petition for ammunition and protection from the Indians with so many others.

He was appointed one of the Justices of the Peace when Westmoreland was organized and presided in 1776.

He was Captain of the Light Horse Company, Westmoreland Co., in 1778 and in 1779 he was Captain of the Westmoreland Associates (Records at Harrisburg, also Penn. Arch., Vol. 14, p. 685).

May 25, 1778, he took the oath of allegiance to Pennsylvania before Hugh Martin (Vol. 3, Second Series, p. 32, Penn. Arch). In 1789 he was Presiding Judge of the Court of Common Pleas. From the Prothonotary's office at Greensburg we found his record as Presiding Justice in 1774 and 1775 (Deed Book A, p. 10).

He married Esther Allison. He died in Indiana Co., Pa.

His will is dated August 15, 1825, and was proved October 5, 1825, and is recorded at Indiana, Pa.

The inscription on his tombstone is:

William Loughry, Esq.,

who died September 27, 1826, aged 69 years.
That of his wife is:

Esther Loughry,

who died February 1, 1825, aged 66 years.

They are both buried at Lewisville, in the old cemetery near Ebenezer Church, which was part of the original grant of land to the LOCHRYS.

They had eight children:

27 Rebecca Loughry—married Malachi Sutton.

28 James Loughry—born 1787—married Ann Wilson.

29 Polly Loughry—born 1788—married James Lewis.

30 Joseph Loughry—born 1790—married Sarah Howard.

31 John Loughry—born 1792—married, 1st, Margaret Sloan; 2nd, Margaret Graham.

32 William Loughry—born 1795.

33 Sally Loughry—married Wm. Robinson.

34 Benjamin Loughry—married Nancy Sloan.

The History of Indiana County, Pa., states, William Loughry settled in Westmoreland County, Pa.; later moving to Blacklick Twp., Indiana County, settling west of Campbell's Mills, in which section he was one of the pioneers.
